

The Association of Dental Support Organizations Boosts Member Resources With Association of Dental Safety Partnership

New collaboration between ADSO and ADS will help expand member benefits, giving DSOs access to premier resources, training opportunities, and more

Washington, D.C. (July 23, 2025) — Today, the Association of Dental Support Organizations (ADSO) announced a new partnership with the Association of Dental Safety (ADS), providing complimentary membership to ADS for ADSO's dental support organization members. The initiative will give them access to networking opportunities, the ADS's extensive library of resources and training, and more.

The new benefit for the association's DSO members underscores the value of belonging to ADSO by expanding opportunities to its growing network.

"The Association of Dental Safety has been a leading voice for infection prevention and patient safety in the dental industry, and the ADSO is proud to partner with them — and very excited to be providing even more resources and benefits to our members," says ADSO CEO Andrew Smith. "There has never been a better time to be a member of ADSO — and membership continues to get more valuable. This agreement between our associations will give ADSO's dental support organization members access to a trusted source of industry-leading resources, training, and collaborative opportunities. It also reinforces the ADSO's commitment to being a leading voice for DSOs and their teams, ensuring our members can continue to expand access to high-quality and affordable dental care while improving patient outcomes and experience."

Key benefits of the ADS membership include:

- Education and training: discounts on ADS's Dental Infection Control Boot Camp, Annual Conference, online courses, and the opportunity to earn ADA-CERP continuing education credits;
- Toolkits and exclusive resources: receive weekly newsletters and bi-monthly publication, as well as full access to ADS's expanding list of toolkits and topics addressing up-to-date infection prevention and safety issues; and

- Networking opportunities: access to a network of oral healthcare professionals and enhanced visibility in the dental community, including ADS's members-only online community, member directory, and forum.
